Aramex Environmental Policy

Aramex understands the environmental impact resulting from our operations. Preserving the environment is intertwined with the future of Aramex, and is an integral part of how we conduct our business. We are committed to mitigating our negative impact and preventing pollution through continuous improvement, in order to reach our goal of becoming one of the leading carbon neutral logistics companies in the world.

This policy is fully endorsed by Aramex management and is communicated to all employees, strengthening our commitment to achieving our environmental objectives and targets outlined below:

- Respecting and complying with local, national and international legal and environment protection laws, regulations and standards.
- Managing our facilities and operations in a responsible manner, a healthy working environment for our people and neighboring communities as well as reducing our impact on the environment.
- Monitoring and upgrading our operations and facilities to comply with international standards.
- Utilizing innovation, technology and alternative energy resources that contribute to reducing our carbon footprint and our consumption of non-renewable energy.
- Promoting 'Green' corporate culture and eco-friendly behavior within Aramex through increasing employee awareness of their individual and collective environmental impact and encouraging recycling.
- Striving for continual improvement through monitoring our progress and taking corrective and preventive actions to meet our objectives.
- Advocating environmentally friendly behavior through third party due diligence and oversight to ensure adherence.
