Service & Rate Guide

aramex

Delivery Unlimited

Founded in 1982 as an express operator, we quickly grew into a global logistics network with more than 600+ offices in over 70 countries. We deliver logistics services and transportation solutions, with a range of specialized offerings like international and domestic express delivery, freight forwarding, integrated logistics solutions, consumer retail services, and e-commerce solutions.

Global Network

Aramex is a founding member and chairs the Global Distribution Alliance (GDA), which brings together over 40 leading express and logistics providers from around the world, each specializing in their own region and together covering the world with the same, unified quality standards and technology of Aramex. The network has more than 600+ offices, 7,000 vehicles and 16,000 employees serving alliance customers and attending to their business around the clock in more than 70 countries.

Aramex is also a founding member of the World Freight Alliance (WFA), a global and dynamic network of freight forwarding specialists that provide both ocean and air freight services to customers.

Quality

We have designed and implemented the Aramex Documented Quality Management System to ensure consistently high standards that we regularly evaluate to improve processes.

The system complies with the international standard of ISO 9001:2000 and includes a set of effective systems that measure customer satisfaction to ensure continuous service enhancement.

Technology

Our state-of-the-art shipment management and tracking system InfoAXS, the warehouse management system OptiLog, as well as the private and public web portals aramex.net and aramex.com, are tools we designed to increase operational efficiency and the quality of our services.

The high-tech handheld scanners used by Aramex ground couriers and warehouse operators enhance our services and empower our people. The devices enable wireless transmission of shipment status updates, providing real-time tracking information to customers around the globe.

Sustainability

Aramex is the first company in the MENA region to release an annual sustainability report in 2006. Today, we have solar panels that power 75% of our warehouses and offices in Jordan and the UAE and we added electric vehicles across the Middle East. All our bags and pouches are biodegradable too.

Aramex has set a target to reduce our Carbon Emissions per shipment from the baseline by 20% since 2020.

Dear valued customers,

For the past 42 years, Aramex has been changing the way we move goods globally and domestically. This has become more evident in recent years as we continue to play an important role in people's and businesses' daily lives. People are depending more heavily on us to purchase all types of goods and products with the increasing expectation of receiving them almost instantaneously. For businesses, we are a strategic partner, providing growth opportunities. In 2022, we moved products reliably while navigating challenging supply chains and providing a seamless, transparent, and trackable end-to-end experience.

Othman Aljeda
Chief Executive Officer

Our success is owed to our laser-sharp focus on customer service excellence. We invested in front and back-end technology to boost our operations and enhance the customer interface. We expanded geographically to reach more cities and remote locations. We automated our operations to ensure a seamless flow of packages from the first to the last mile efficiently and at reduced costs. Additionally, we invested in our people by upskilling them and hiring the right talent who can help us deliver on our promise to our customers. We accomplished all of this while delivering value to our shareholders, being active corporate citizens, further embedding sustainability into our core operations, and caring for the health of our planet.

Our Commitment

Our commitment to our people has remained constant over our 42 years of operations. Since our founding, we have recognized that success lies with the people. Innovative ideas, solutions, and excellent customer service can only come from an energized, connected, and motivated workforce. That's why we dedicated 2022 to celebrating our accomplishments over the past four decades and forging more meaningful ties with our 16,000+ global and diverse workforce. Feeling connected to the Aramex brand and its values is how we build a global company that can better drive our vision - to deliver what our customers value most everywhere, on time, every time. I am very proud to lead a team of passionate, hardworking, and entrepreneurial Aramexians, and I look forward to celebrating more moments - big or small - in the coming years with them.

Restricted and Prohibited Goods Compliance

Ensuring that shipments comply with regulations regarding restricted or prohibited goods is crucial. Aramex can help shippers understand and adhere to these restrictions.

Customs Bonds

Some shipments may require a customs bond for clearance. Aramex can help facilitate the process of obtaining and managing customs bonds.

Electronic Data Interchange (EDI)

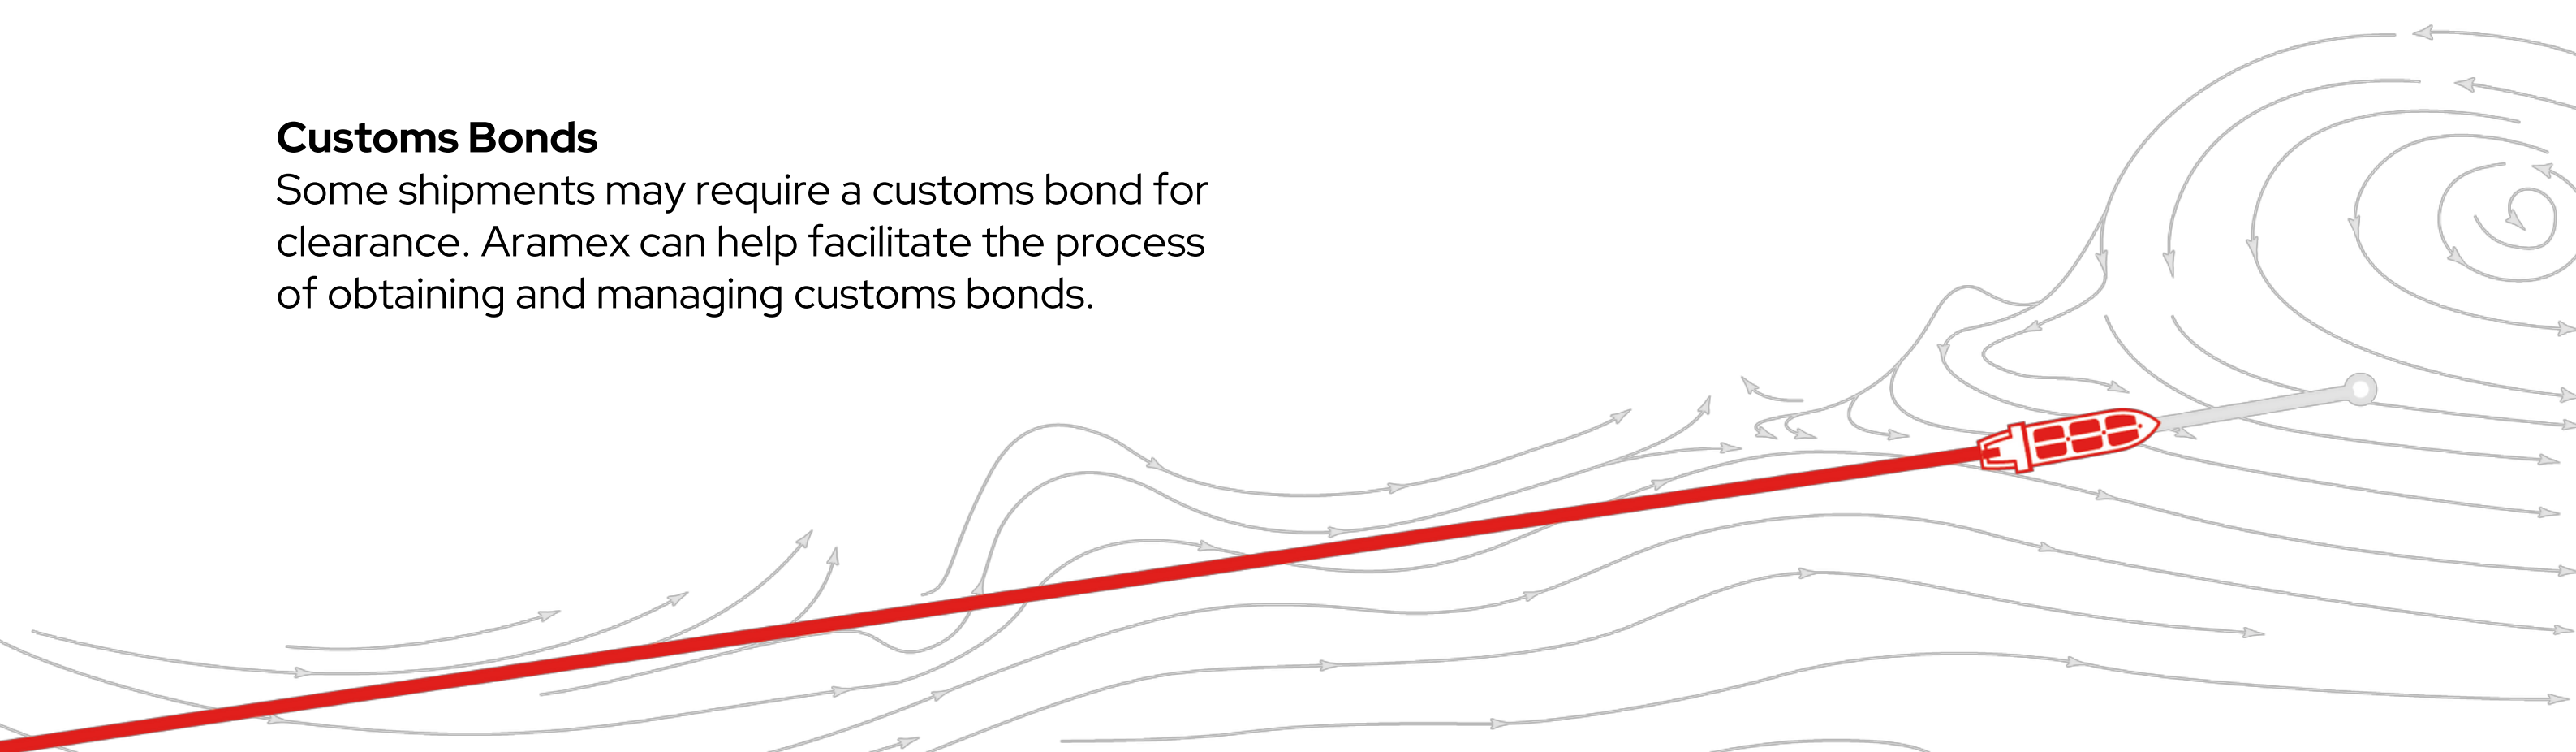

Aramex may offer electronic data interchange services to streamline the exchange of customs-related information between shippers, customs authorities, and other stakeholders.

Customs Brokerage

Aramex may act as a customs broker, representing the interests of the shipper or receiver during the customs clearance process.

Compliance Audits

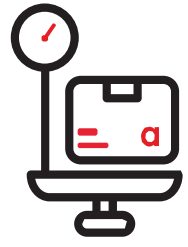

Periodic audits may be conducted to ensure that shipments and documentation comply with customs regulations, helping to prevent issues or delays.

Ship it the aramex way

aramex

Send your shipments in 5 easy steps

Step 1: Weigh and measure your shipment

You can do this using a normal weighing scale. Note that large but lightweight shipments will be measured by the space taken in an aircraft. Any piece in the shipment may be re-weighed and/or re-measured by Aramex to confirm this calculation.

Step 2: Include a waybill

Your waybill allows you to track your shipment from collection through to delivery. Your shipment may also need customs documentation, as well as additional paperwork depending on the contents and value of the shipment and the country you are sending to.

Step 3: Add an invoice

If you're sending items to another country, you must include either a commercial or proforma invoice. A commercial invoice is needed when goods are meant to be sold, and a proforma invoice is needed for items that don't have any commercial value, such as samples.

Step 4: Package your shipment

We offer a range of high-quality and sustainable packaging items, suitable for shipping items of all shapes and sizes. Choose from flyer bags, cardboard document envelopes, boxes in a range of sizes and tubes.

Step 5: Pay for your shipment

You can pay for shipments either with cash, a credit card or by bank transfer. All Aramex business customers receive invoices on a pre-agreed basis.

Application Programming Interface (APIs)

A simple way to integrate your website with our services

What is API?

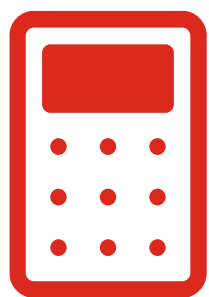

In technical language, Aramex offers API tools to integrate your system with Aramex backend via Internet. In simple terms, these tools – which work in the background and in real time – take an input (for example shipment weight and destination) and give back an output (for example shipping charges).
